

Public Schools Week Program Being Planned

One of the developments going on now because of Public School Week beginning Sunday is a school evaluation project. Supt. Joe A. Gibson said it was a state-wide instructional evaluation to determine the improvement made under the Gilmer-Aiken program.

Various committees are working on the project. Some of the things the evaluation will cover are: The scope of the instructional program, the products of the instructional program, the results of the instructional program, and the nature of the learning experiences provided.

A steering committee has been set up in the school system and various committees have been appointed for carrying out the program.

It is a project in which each school system will compile an independent report. The findings from each individual school system will be combined for a composite state-wide report.

Local churches will observe the 100th birthday of the public school system with various announcements. Schools will observe open house all next week. Service clubs will observe the occasion with appropriate programs. Club members will also meet at the school house for their regular weekly meeting.

Members of the high school Future Teacher Association are participating in the program. This organization will have members who will prepare speeches on public school week. The speeches will be given in the school assembly in honor of the 100 years of progress by the public school system.

Funeral Service For J. C. Dowd Held Thursday

Funeral services for John C. Dowd were conducted Thursday afternoon in the First Baptist Church at 2:30. Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor, officiated and he was assisted by Rev. Dowd had been living here for the past 47 years. The 72-year-old pioneer was associated with his son, Bob, in the implement business in Happy. He died as a result of a collision involving his pickup truck and another pickup truck Tuesday morning at 10:30.

MRS. W. J. FLEISHER

Asks Re-election to Justice Post No. 4

Mrs. W. J. Fleisher, justice of the peace of Precinct No. 4, Randall county, announced Friday that she will be a candidate for re-election to the office she now holds in the coming election.

Mrs. Fleisher, who lives at 3205 Van Buren, has been a resident of Amarillo and Randall county since 1927.

In her announcement, Mrs. Fleisher said, "I wish to announce my candidacy for re-election as justice of the peace, Precinct No. 4, Randall county, subject to the Democratic Primary election.

"I appreciate the opportunity that I have had to serve you in the past, and the experience gained makes me better fitted to serve you in the future.

"Your support will be greatly appreciated and, if elected, I will do my best to make a good county official."

City Well Test Made Tuesday

Another one of the recently built city wells was tested yesterday afternoon. During the first hour of pumping the test showed a flow of water averaging between 600 and 650 gallons per minute.

The test started soon after 1:00 p. m. and continues through the following 24-hour period. Only a small amount of time was required for the electrical men to get their equipment set up and start the test pump. By 1:30 Tuesday afternoon the test pumping was under way.

Minutes after the pumping started water fanned out across the dry, dusty prairie. Dust was still filtering down out of the air as the huge stream of water created an ever-widening pool formed near the pump.

The well is one of three added to the city's water expansion program during the past year.

Willson Lectures At W. T. Planned For March 15-19

Plans for observance of "Religious Emphasis Week," March 15-19, at West Texas State College, and committees of students to handle arrangements, have been announced. The week's activities will be highlighted by the annual Willson Lecture Series.

Purpose of the observance, according to Howard Bramlette, director of the Baptist Student Union who is coordinating the program, is "to present the Christian faith in terms understandable to college men and women, and to point out the relevance of that faith to daily living and to the great issues of our time."

Each church denomination represented at WT has been invited to send to the campus a pastor or youth leader to participate. These speakers will remain in Canyon during the week, taking part in evening vespers services, "bull sessions" in dormitories, and group and personal conferences.

Regular Willson lecturer will speak daily in assembly and conduct conferences during the week. Classes will be telecasted in the mornings, allowing the 10 o'clock period to be free for the lecture series.

Committee chairmen named are: publicity, Marshall Jones, Canyon; financial, Bill Winter, Amarillo; music, David Evans, Childress; arrangements, Colline Brown, Hereford; program, Bill Hunter, Dimmitt; and bull sessions, Byron Gammage, Plainview.

Second Lt. Carrie Dawdy of Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, Colo., spent last week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Dawdy. Lt. Dawdy is being transferred to Lackland Base, San Antonio.

Mother-in-Law Convention To Be Here March 5

On March 5th Canyon will host the National Association of Mother-in-Law Clubs. It will be the third annual convention of the association and will convene at 10:00 a. m. in the Fine Arts room of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum. The museum opens at 9 o'clock and visitors are invited to come early, register, and visit about in the museum if they desire.

During the morning session of the convention there will be a short program followed by a business meeting. Luncheon will be served in the college cafeteria Blue Room at 12:30. Diners will pay $1.50 per plate for their luncheon. There will be another program following the meal and after the program there will be the installation of national officers for the coming year.

Mother-in-Law Day was suggested and sponsored by the late Gene Howe of the Amarillo News-Globe. First meeting of the organization was March 5, 1934. Ceremonies were held in the Amarillo Hotel, and each mother-in-law who registered was given a bouquet of sweet peas and a free ticket to the theater. Thereafter, meetings were held from time to time with the first official meeting coming a year later on March 5, 1935. James V. Allred, then Governor of Texas, was present to proclaim this day the official Mother-in-Law Day.

The organization continued to observe Mother-in-Law Day and in 1937 applied for and received a charter as the National Association of Mother-in-Law Clubs.

On March 9, 1938, the club had its largest celebration in Amarillo. At this meeting Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was guest of honor. Several state governors attended the function, each bringing his mother-in-law. Following the program there was a huge meeting in the city auditorium in Amarillo.

Canyon was one of the first towns to form a branch club in the organization.

IT BLOWED FRIDAY

Yes, Sir, Dust Covered Plains

By the time business houses were opened Friday for business, the dust was so thick in the air that one could hardly see across the street.

A north wind brought oceans of dust floating over the Panhandle. The wind continued throughout the day, with a mixture of snow which turned the dust into mud. Cars, homes, buildings of all kinds, and people who were out in the open received a smattering of mud.

It was remarkable that so little damage was done in Randall county to growing crops as a result of the wind and dust. The day recalled to early settlers the dust bowl days.

The only serious accident on the highway occurred near Hollywood when a milk truck and gasoline transport collided. The driver of the milk truck was killed instantly. He was J. M. Fowler of Amarillo.

Fortunately the gasoline transport did not ignite as a result of the accident. Herbert T. Dannheim of Muleshoe was driver of the transport.

Frank Garcia of Amarillo, riding with Fowler, was seriously injured.

Enjoy Dollar Day Values March 5

As February draws to a close and the first spring months loom up, time to plan for Dollar Day values draw near. Local merchants will observe Dollar Day on the first Friday in March, and this time it's the 5th, one week from Friday.

You'll find many of these values advertised in next week's paper. Plan to check all the great values that will be offered on that special day and buy the things you need at great savings to you.

Present series of Dollar Days are going into their third year. The program has been somewhat successful even though there have been times when interest lagged. These times have been temporary and interest in the program has always bounced back to carry it on successfully.

Mrs. Chester Dowell of Dumas, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Cavitt of Portales, N. M., spent the week-end with their mother and brother, Mrs. Ruth Hill and Lowell.

Sixteen calves were entered in the show of the boys, with Norman Tucek showing the top steer of the show. J. P. Smith, manager of the PanTech Experiment Station was the judge of the show.

The best swine show ever held in Canyon was the result of the Junior Livestock Association's annual show in Canyon Saturday. Joe Winstead won first place with his Durac Jersey.

County Checking Expressway Cost

Talk of the much publicized expressway between here and Amarillo was the subject discussed in the Randall County Commissioners Court Monday. Some of the commissioners wanted to hire outside help to make the cost survey of the proposed new highway. Others wanted to make the survey themselves.

After much discussion it was decided to let the commissioners in whose precincts the highway will pass make the survey. This job falls to Pat Baber, commissioner Precinct 1, and C. Y. Johnson, commissioner Precinct 4.

After the cost survey is completed the details of working out a bond issue and voting on it will be decided upon. County Judge Roy Joe Stevens said Tuesday that there was no way of knowing just how long it will take the commissioners to complete the cost survey.

County officials recently received a map prepared by the State Highway Department, showing all of the roads in the county and the amount of traffic passing over the route. The commissioners also had a map showing the proposed route of the freeway and various buildings and other objects that would have to be moved before the new road could be constructed.

Mr. and Mrs. Lill Thompson of Tucumcari attended the J. C. Dowd funeral. Mrs. Thompson is a sister of Paul Rogers.

8th Graders End Victory Season

Coach R. D. Wheelock's eighth grade boys basketball team ended a perfect season by taking first place at the Kress tournament Saturday. The Kress tournament had started on Friday but the local boys could not make it down there that day and had to play all their games on Saturday.

Wheelock's boys met and defeated the Floydada team in the tournament at 2:30 Saturday afternoon. They played Hale Center at 4:30, defeating them, and then on Saturday evening, at 9:30, they took their third victory of the tournament when they beat Dimmitt.

Some of the teams the local boys have played during the regular season were Hereford, Tulia, and Stephen F. Austin of Amarillo.

Farlow Funeral Held in Panhandle

One of the pioneer teachers of Panhandle died Saturday morning with the death of 80-year-old Mrs. Carrie Farlow. Mrs. Farlow is the mother of George Allan Farlow, former Canyon businessman now living in Midland. She died in her home in Panhandle after a lingering illness. She had been a resident of Panhandle since 1887, moving there from Mobetie.

Mrs. Farlow was an early day school teacher on the Plains. One of her teaching assignments was on the Turkey Track ranch.

Funeral services were conducted in Panhandle at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Rev. Barrett Moore, pastor of Paul Rogers.

A GOOD QUESTION

And Here Is the Answer . . . . .

The other evening soon after last week's paper was out, the Newsman was called to the phone by a question.

Is there a city ordinance against shooting firearms in the city limits?

That was easy. Certainly there is such an ordinance.

The next question. Is it legal to put out poison within the city limits?

That was tougher to answer. No, there is no ordinance against such a practice, but it would be a very inhuman act to put out poison for stray dogs. Pets are likely to get the poison and even children might eat food picked up with poison.

So serious has become the mad dog situation in Canyon that the City Commission met yesterday and passed an ordinance providing that dogs shall be picked up and shall be destroyed after 24 hours unless redeemed by the owner.

The city will start Monday picking up dogs on the streets Monday.

If you want to keep your dogs, they must be kept at home. If you will keep your dog, see to it that it is free from disease. Rabid shots are very painful and expensive for humans.

H. E. White Home Burns in Washburn

An early Friday morning fire destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. White of Washburn. Mrs. White is a brother of Otto White of Canyon.

Third degree burns were suffered by Mrs. White but late last week her condition was reported as "good" from the Amarillo Osteopathic Hospital where she was treated.

The 5:00 a. m. blaze destroyed the seven room home of the Whites. Mr. White owns a grain company and a store in Washburn. The family has been living there since 1910.

Funeral Services Held For Mrs. Mary Smith

Mrs. Mary Smith of Dallas died Saturday, February 13, in Dallas. She was the mother of Mrs. H. H. Hand, Mrs. L. H. Holman of Canyon, and Mrs. Johnnie Couch of Dallas. The deceased is the mother of Charley and John Bewley of Los Angeles, Calif., and sister-in-law of M. F. Bewley of Canyon.

All attended the funeral and returned to Canyon Tuesday night. Grandchildren attending the funeral were Bill Hand, Diana Hand, and Helen Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dowd of Corsicana attended the funeral of his brother. They were with the family from Tuesday night until Saturday morning.

Ed Dowd and son, Edward, of Compton, Calif., were here for the funeral of his brother.

Two Firms To Build Service Stations Here

Two Amarillo firms have bought locations in Canyon for new service stations.

Under construction now is a Texaco Service Station on lots 7 and 8, block 53 of the Conner Addition. This location is just south of the building started recently by H. R. Jennings on Highway 87.

The service station will be the finest construction that the company operates between Lubbock and Amarillo according to those who are in touch with the deal.

Don Cloward has sold his corner at the junction of Fourth Avenue and Highway 87 to Amarillo parties who will start building a tourist court and large service station to be operated by the Humble company. This land is 135x140 feet.

Mr. Cloward has leased the north section of the Weaver building two blocks to the north and has started remodeling this location. He states that he will have one of the finest cafes in this section. He hopes to get located in his new cafe by April 1st. The building is 30x60 feet.

It is reported locally that leases on the Texas and Humble stations are to be let to responsible operators in the near future.

Collinsworth Has Withdrawn Race

Bob Collinsworth stated yesterday afternoon that he was withdrawing from the race for the city commission. He was announced last week by a group of friends for mayor. He states that he was away from town at the time and would not have permitted his name to be entered if he had been here.

Collinsworth considered running for the city commission, but yesterday announced that he was completely withdrawing from the race.

"I have always been for Hosea Foster as a candidate for Mayor, and he has two good men running with him for the commission," stated Mr. Collinsworth at the News office.

W. A. Hunter Has Heart Attack

John Hunter, manager of Pioneer Gas Company here, returned home Sunday after visiting his father in Bowie. His father, W. A. Hunter, suffered a heart attack Friday night but was improved Sunday when John returned home.

Hunter left Saturday night with two sisters to visit their father. The two sisters are Mrs. C. F. Hefner of Amarillo and Mrs. G. A. Thompson of Denver, Colo.

Reids Are Home After Tour East

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Reid recently returned from a tour of several Eastern states. On the trip they visited Atlantic City, N. J., Philadelphia, Pa., New York City, N. Y., and Washington, D. C.

While in Washington the couple attended a coffee given by Representatives Walter Rogers and Sam Rayburn and Senator Lyndon Johnson. The coffee was given in honor of the Texas delegates of the National Education Association.

During the trip Mr. and Mrs. Reid also visited Mt. Vernon, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Independence Hall in Philadelphia, and the Statue of Liberty in New York.

Stork Specials

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Eighteen Year Olds May Be Given the Ballots for Votes

There is a decided movement in the nation to hand the ballot to 18 year old boys and girls. President Eisenhower has given such a law his blessing.

The argument is made that if boys 18 years of age are old enough to shoulder a gun and fight for their country, certainly they are old enough to go to the polls and cast an intelligent ballot.

While this may or may not be true, let it be remembered that youth has physical prowess which is not possessed by their elders. Perhaps not many 18 year old have the mental capacity of their elders, but on the other hand, many of them are much superior to their elders.

We have only to look around and see the mess that the older people impose upon a minority of the populas to understand why 18 year olds, especially those who have made a study of government, are better qualified to vote than their elders.

If there is a mess in this nation, who is responsible? The elders, of course!

If we had mob rule, like in Duval county of Texas, who is to blame? The elders, of course. No one else.

However, do not get the idea for a moment that if the ballot is handed to 18 year olds that all of them will rush to the polls and cast intelligent votes. They will pretty well follow the steps of their elders in casting their ballots.

All will agree that a terrible mess has been made by those who vote; and all will agree that not all ballots are intelligent, or for the best interest of the nation as a whole. The elders vote their prejudices more than they vote for the best interest of the nation. Naturally if and when youths of 18 years are admitted to the polls and cast their ballots, they will be no more intelligent or more particular in the selection of their public officials than the elders have been.

Pete LaMaster Has Little Chance Of Winning Race For Congress

LeRoy (Pete) LaMaster has announced for Congress on the Republican ticket. He was in the race for Congress in 1950 and lacked only a few votes of getting into the second primary with Congressman Walter Rogers.

In 1952 LaMaster supported General Eisenhower for President, but he has not relinquished his fidelity to the Democratic party. He runs as a Republican, but invites Democratic support.

High moguls of the Republican party in Texas have been itching to get a candidate into the race against Rogers. Why? Well, that is the $64 question. Rogers has been independent; voting more often for the President than he has against the policies of the President.

Congressman Rogers has been a surprise to all voters in the district. He has not straddled the fence in order to win favors; and certainly he cannot be criticised for having supported the measures which would be best for his district.

Personally we have deep admiration for Pete LaMaster. He improved as the campaign progressed. If the people of the district had really known his worth in 1950, the results of the election should have put him in the second primary.

We did not vote for Walter Rogers, but he has done such a notable service to the Panhandle that we cannot turn him down. We shall vote for his re-election because of past good service.

The Right To Work Law of Texas Upheld in the Courts

Personally we are of the opinion that Judge C. E. Nelson rendered a safe and sane decision in upholding the "Right to Work" laws of Texas.

As most readers already know, the decision was given in the case of a few workers of the Santa Fe who were not members of any union and asked that the Santa Fe be restrained from demanding that they join a union before they could continue their jobs with the railroad.

The Santa Fe first joined forces with the unions, but when the evidence was presented it is stated that the railroad changed its mind and assumed a passive attitude. No matter which way the suit went, the railroad would continue doing business.

As the situation stands, there is no sense in a ruling that men or women working in any office should be forced to join a union unless they so desired. Personally, if we were in their shoes, we would gladly go along with a majority and join up; but grant them the privilege of doing as they please.

It would be hard to understand how such a far-reaching law would be passed by the legislature and not have some loopholes in it. The lawmakers are to be congratulated if they did pass the law and it was not shot through and through by the smart corporation lawyers. Someone in the legislature did a good job, if the appeal, as now promised, holds up.

Clare Booth Luce Has a Tough Job in Italy, But No Quitter

Every week or so we see by the daily press that Clare Booth Luce is just on the point of resigning her post in Italy and returning home.

Mrs. Luce has not set the woods on fire in her effort to keep the Italians in line and protecting the interest of America. No doubt she has done the best that she could, or the best that anyone could do under the circumstances.

Italy is the hotbed of the commies. Italy threw in with Hitler during the war, but the commies gained the overhand as the result of malcontent with America and the entire west.

Mrs. Luce is a Catholic. The Vatican is located in Italy, but in spite of the fact that Italy is largely Catholic in religion, the Pope has not been able to control the situation. Perhaps he assumes the attitude that the church has no business attempting to control the politics of the people.

At any rate, Mrs. Luce says that she does not intend resigning her post in Italy, and President Eisenhower has not asked for a change. We have a sneaking idea that none of the diplomatic corps are so badly misquidged as to think that they could do a better job on a thankless situation than Mrs. Luce is doing.

Never be surprised at the doings of fellow human beings; nothing is too fantastic for some of them.

Rainfall Spotted in Randall County During the Past Year

W. H. Upchurch sends annual rainfall for Randall county to College Station headquarters as a matter of comparison for the seven established stations in the county.

During the past year the largest amount of moisture fell at Umbarger, designated as the west part of the county. Here the moisture measured 18.29 inches.

Second spot was found at the Roy N. Byrd place, southwest part of the county, with 18.18 inches.

The third spot was at the Anton Handing place, west-northwest of Canyon, with a total of 17.74 inches.

Canyon was fourth with a total of 17.05 inches. There are two stations here, one established at the college, while Clyde Warwick has been the local observer for about 25 years in the west end of Canyon.

The fifth spot is held by the State Experiment Station in the northwest part of the county, showing a total of 14.97 inches.

Ralph Switch, south of Canyon, received 12.70 inches; while the R. B. Gist place, in the southeast part of the county, received 12.62 inches.

It is noted by the report that when it rained in one part of the county, practically every other section received some moisture. But the amounts varied. While spring rains fell in varying amounts in all seven stations, April rains have been the heaviest, giving spring a real send-off.

Weather forecasters say that we are in the 10 year dry cycle, but we are not going to worry about that—yet.

Your Credit Should Be Guarded And Carefully Protected

We could never understand how any person could walk into any business establishment and buy some article, on credit, when they knew there was no chance for them to pay for it.

Yet there are millions of people in this nation who will do that very thing.

The government has felt that it was necessary to curb installment buying, not only for the protection of business people who do not have the nerve to turn down dead beats; but likewise to keep people from over extending their credit.

Banks do not hesitate to turn down checks when there is no money on deposit to meet them; so why should not business houses ask a few questions on charge accounts and find out how the customer expects to meet his debts?

We have often wondered how much money is lost every year in a town no larger than Canyon by business men who extend credit to persons who are not entitled to credit! It would be a whale of a lot of money when all is added up.

When you walk into a business house and blandly say: "Charge it," be sure that you can meet the payments when they are due.

That is another sign of free enterprise in this nation, and a sure sign that free enterprise will work.

The Mess in Duval County Promised Complete Airing

Governor Shivers says that he will clean up the mess in Duval county.

The Governor has started too late in the job of reforming that section of Texas which is filled with Spanish speaking people from Mexico.

Shivers profited from the Parr dictatorship while running for office, therefore this sudden reform is too sudden for most people to take seriously.

George Parr has hired a big staff of able lawyers to defend him and his right to dictate the policies of Duval county. Unless Uncle Sam can get Parr back in prison on income tax evasion, he will likely continue to rule his little empire, regardless of Governor Shivers, the Attorney General and the State Auditor.

Martin Dies Says That He May Be a Candidate for Governor

Governor Shivers keeps a bunch of politicians guessing as to what he will do politically.

The latest potential candidate for governor is Congressman-at-large Martin Dies. Frankly we would not be in favor of Dies under any circumstance. To us he is a bigoted jackass who brays loud and long about his past accomplishments and what FDR did to him, driving him out of Congress.

If Martin Dies is such a great fighter as he pretends to be, why did he quit Congress just to please Roosevelt?

We fear that Dies is mightier than his bark, but he has a great following in all parts of Texas who think that he is the hot stuff and will drive all of the commies into the middle of the ocean.

"The Golden Spread" Promises To Give True Highway Reports

The once standing joke on the weather of the Panhandle has become so serious that the folks of this area have decided to do something about it.

"It must be cold in Amarillo" has become the standing jibe of too many people in too many parts of the nation.

As a result, "The Golden Spread" has been organized to give a true picture of the weather in the Panhandle. As a result of this organization, when bad weather comes, motorists will be advised which roads are bad and which roads are open to traffic.

It is a matter of record that the sun shines more days per year in the Panhandle than in most sections in Texas.

While we may be heading into rough times, it is well to remember the economists have been forecasting a recession every year for the last three years now, having been wrong twice, and may not have the answer this time.

The world would be a nicer place to live in if just about everybody didn't have an axe to grind or a motive behind his (or her) behavior.

The rest of the Roosevelt boys will have to do some fast thinking to get as much publicity as James has been given recently.

It's hard to believe they're throwing baseballs again in spring training camps, and that Spring is just around the corner.

Don't believe anything you hear at cocktail parties.

It was in 1910, that Francisco Madero, Pancho Villa and others began the revolution in Mexico that was to keep the Diaz government from power—crumbling at the same time the vast empire of Don Luis Terrazas, who was the biggest ranch owner the world ever saw. Don Luis and his family held on in Chihuahua City as long as they dared but finally had to flee to El Paso with the federal troops. The old man, however, got across the border with 5,000,000 pesos in gold and $2,000,000 in American money.

Most of his numerous family went into exile with him but Luis Junior (or Luis Chico, as he was called—Little Luis) stayed on in Chihuahua to look after family interests and was taken prisoner and tortured by Pancho Villa, who was trying to find the hiding place of some of the family treasure. At last Luis Chico, who was then about 50, gave in and told Villa where he could find $500,000 in gold—inside a column in the lobby of the Banco Minero, which was owned by the elder Terrazas. Then Villa demanded of Don Luis a half million dollars as ransom for his son, but as negotiations were going on, Luis Chico sawed his way out of the Chihuahua prison and made his way to El Paso.

In El Paso, where he remained for several years, Don Luis lived at Golden Hill, a mansion he rented from Albert B. Fall, later secretary of the Interior, and the old cattleman became a familiar and picturesque part of the El Paso scene.

Miss Lia Cully of Fort Worth, a great-granddaughter of the Don, in an interview some years ago recalled a few things about that period in the old gentleman's life. Miss Cully said that her great-grandfather always carried in his pockets an ample supply of shiny, new quarters which he passed out to his grandchildren and nieces and nephews, much in the manner that John D. Rockefeller handed out dimes.

"It was his habit to take a walk, at the same hour every day, around the plaza," said Miss Cully, "and on Sunday the children of the family would make it a point to walk around the plaza in the opposite direction so that they might meet Don Luis, say 'Good afternoon, sir,' and receive one of these quarters. I remember once, when I didn't think the quarter would be enough for the picture show and a visit to the soda fountain, too, I walked around a second time, said a second 'good afternoon' and received a second quarter. But I didn't do it again—after my parents found out about it."

Miss Cully recalled Don Luis as a kindly impressive old gentleman who was exceptionally agile for all his 90 years—perhaps because of the many years of his life spent in the saddle.

When peace came to Mexico, Don Luis returned to Chihuahua—where he died in 1923—but he was not able to reassemble his once vast domain except in part. A new order had to come to Mexico and the great estates, under the agrarian system, were being split into small tracts.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

If there is one business the public would believe as remaining strictly independent, it is that of the junkman.

Yet, if the Federal Trade Commission proves charges it has filed in regard to the iron and steel scrap industry, the long tentacles of monopoly practice have now clutched the junkman.

The complaint charges that Luria Bros. and Company, Inc., of Philadelphia and subsidiary Southwest Steel Corporation has engaged in a huge conspiracy to restrain free flow of iron and steel scrap.

Also cited in complaint are many iron and steel producers, headed by mammoth United States Steel.

As is well known to all who cooperated in wartime scrap metal drives, scrap is vital in steel production, as virgin iron ore is not sufficient by itself.

FTC alleges Luria Bros., acting as brokers, has coerced both suppliers and buyers of scrap to deal only with them. In addition, they have conspired with steel mills, including U. S. Steel, to permit them to act as exclusive, or substantially exclusive brokers of the mills scrap needs.

In addition, FTC charges, Luria Bros. and Southwest sells finished and semi-finished iron and steel products to fabricators on condition the fabricators sell all their scrap to Luria.

© National Federation of Independent Business

The complaint also charges the Luria Bros. bid and paid excessively high prices to upset the iron and steel industry.

Also FTC charges that since 1946 the Luria people acquired all or substantial parts of the capital stock of six leading, previously independent scrap companies and has continued to operate them SPC says as "bogus independents."

This case could have wide-spread implications.

From 1946 when the Luria Bros. stepped into high gear and through the Korean War, independent fabricators of steel were pinched both by shortages and so-called black and grey steel markets.

This appears to be case of even more far reaching consequences than the scrap battery lead case which followed the same monopolistic trend. But the question asked by many is that even if FTC proves its case, what will be the result.

In the scrap battery lead case, the Justice Department under Herbert Brownell, agreed to token punishments in the form of fines and promise to "go and sin no more."

In this case and in the battery lead case, it does not appear violation of anti trust laws was because of misunderstanding of technicalities which is so often used as an argument to repeal anti trust laws. It is doubtful that a monopoly just happens by accident. Yet, when punishment is usually moderate fines representing only fraction of illegal profits there is undoubtedly a great and continuing incentive to violate anti trust laws.

Eisenhower Is Following the Steps of Teddy

By EDWARD H. SIMS

WASHINGTON: President Eisenhower came pretty close to sounding like Teddy Roosevelt at one of his recent press conferences here. A reporter asked him at a conference attended by this writer whether he agreed with Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson that there had been too much sabre-rattling on the part of Americans recently.

The President did not associate himself with Wilson's exact words; what he said was that he knew what Wilson meant. He said he agreed with his Defense Secretary that there was no need for Americans to tell the world what they would do if this or that happened, or brag about their capabilities.

Then Ike recalled his days as commander of the Allied armies in Europe during World War II. He said that during that campaign he never once put out any boastful statements about what he planned to do to the enemy. When the time came for something to be done, however, Ike said he assembled the force necessary to do the job and did it.

That is the way, the President said, U. S. foreign policy should be handled. We should be about our tasks quietly and with efficiency, Eisenhower told reporters. We should be strong and possess the strength to meet all possible contingencies.

If we do this, we need not boast to all the world how powerful we are — or what we might do in case of trouble. We will move along quietly and take over whatever action is necessary at the time, the President said.

And that comes pretty close to saying that the best policy for the United States to follow in the field of foreign affairs today is walk softly and carry a big stick. President Eisenhower, in this summary of his philosophy, shows a striking resemblance to the philosophy of the late Theodore Roosevelt — another military man who rose to the rank of Commander-in-Chief.

Hubbard Family Sends Many To West Texas State

If there were such a thing, the Hubbards could demand, and get, a quantity discount at West Texas State College. There is a Hubbard in each of the four undergraduate classes.

Three sons and one daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Hubbard, formerly of Wheeler, are now attending WT, and there are more to come. Counting back, two of Mr. Hubbard's sisters completed their college training at WT, and three of the present generation's first cousins can be counted WT exes.

The present group of Hubbard scholars has been attending West Texas State since 1947, when the oldest son, Charles, first enrolled. Charles, the senior, returned from Army service in 1947, started his work in art, and was recalled to service. He came back to WT last year.

Edgar, a physical education major, is a junior; Gene, a sophomore, is concentrating his college work in the field of education; and Pat, the sister, is a freshman business administration student. All four are graduates of Wheeler High School.

Two younger sisters, Kay, a sophomore in high school, and Jo, a grade school student, are in school in Canyon. Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard moved to Canyon last month, since the main body of the family was already here.

Two of the boys were Buffalo football players. Edgar was a tackle and is a member of the T-Club. Gene, who was on the freshman squad in 1950, was called to Army service, and he returned to college this spring.

Pat, the freshman, was one of two winners of a scholarship offered by Senior Magazine, a publication of the WT department of public services. She wrote a winning essay on "Why I Want to Attend West Texas State College."

Mr. Hubbard's two sisters who are exes, are Miss Bula Hubbard, who is teaching at San Jacinto School in Amarillo, and Mrs. Bernice Davis of Borger. The three cousins are Mrs. Naomi Johnson Rust, who now lives in Kansas; Lloyd Johnson, who is now coaching at Stephen F. Austin Junior High School in Amarillo; and Kenneth Crowder of Wheeler, who is now attending WT and working toward a master's degree.

Cub Scouts Hold Blue and Gold Banquet Friday

More than 150 people were present Friday night in the American Legion Hall for the Blue and Gold banquet of the local Cub Scouts. Roland Black, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, handled the details of the banquet.

Hot rolls for the banquet were supplied by Tasti-Roll Company and Plains Creamery supplied the milk. Main courses of the banquet meal were supplied by Cub Scout mothers.

A total of 52 awards were given the Cub Scouts and den mothers. The den mothers who had been serving as long as one year received a certificate. One den mother had been active less than a year and received a pin.

W. M. Teague, District Scout representative, presented Bobcat pins to Cubs Tom Hicks, Tommie Zachry, Bob Childers, and Marvin Hutton.

Wolf badges were presented by Lawrence Brotherton to Mike McAtee, Ralph Kuehn, Bobbie Dreiss, Tommy Hicks, Johnnie Sykes, and Danny O'Donald.

Hampton Lyles made the Bear awards to Robert Haggard, Truitt O'Donald, and Dickie Campsey.

The Webelos award, highest given in Cubbing, went to Bobby Bellah. The presentation was made by Bobby's father, Bob Bellah. Two of the Cubs were also honored for service with the Cubs as they are leaving this organization and going into Scout work. They were Bobby Bellah and Eddie Pettitt.

Some of the Cubs received as many as four Arrowpoint awards. James A. Young, local Scout worker, made the presentations. Those receiving the awards were Bobby Bellah, Truitt O'Donald, Johnny Gressett, Mike McAtee, Ralph Cabe, James Boyd, Ronnie Harris, Joe Carroll Robinson, Dickie Campsey, David Price, Bill Phillips, and Rusty Prichard.

Presentation of the one year service stars was made by W. M. Teague. Receiving these awards were Wallace Busted, Mike Calliham, Bobbie Dreiss, Dickie Campsey, James Boyd, Mike McAtee, Dewayne Kiser, and Jess Sheets.

Only two Cubs failed to get an award and they had received all of theirs at a previous meeting.

One of the first awards made of the evening was the Pack flag. It went to Den 3 for having the biggest percentage of members and guests present. One of the last awards given was to Den 5. It was $5.00 in cash presented to the den mother by Rev. T. Winston Wilbanks.

Next meeting of the Cubs will be conducted March 29 in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church.

Members reported on friendly notes written during the past two weeks and a letter from Rep. Walter Rogers was read in which he offered to support the Federation of Women's Clubs' move to designate a national Friendship Day.

Further plans for a chuck wagon dinner to be sponsored by the club March 10 were discussed, and members voted to revise the constitution and by-laws in accordance with suggestions worked out by a committee headed by Mrs. W. A. Miller.

The president, Mrs. Rex Reeves, appointed Mrs. Bill R. Lee chairman of the committee on Indian affairs and Mrs. Mitchell Jones to the veterans' affairs committee.

Eisenhower Takes Command to Put Up Fight Against Depression

WASHINGTON: In Washington the reserves are being readied and every phase of the current battle is being carefully watched for clues. It is almost like 1944 all over again, with President Eisenhower being in command this time instead of General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The battle is a different one. This is the battle against an economic disaster. The best brains in the Administration keep telling the President and other Republicans that it can't happen. They say the dip in the economy of late is just a natural result of the conversion to a peacetime economy.

The President agrees, but it is hard to keep Republicans from remembering 1929, 1930, and 1931, and there is just enough doubt in the far reaches of their minds to make everyone a bit nervous, or sensitive to every economic trend.

Naturally, Democratic politicians are pouring fuel on the fire, in an effort to convince John Q. Public that the Republican Administration is once again leading the country down the road to economic ruin. We are on our way down the slide to a depression, Democrats are saying and they're scaring some people to death.

Meanwhile the President has ordered every precaution made, and he is even ready to launch a public works program that might dwarf those sponsored by the Democrats in the thirties. This is just in case economy experts in the Executive Department are wrong.

Actually, the President thinks they are right, and he thinks the business outlook is good, not bad. The key period ahead seems to be the spring months. There is a difference of opinion as to when business will start to pick up again but the Administration's economists definitely look for a pickup.

Some talk is heard about May 15th. Others say that by June the layoffs will be over and sales will begin to rise. The Administration knows that as many as 3,500,000 people may become unemployed in the meantime. The figure will be allowed to go that high—or almost—before drastic action is ordered.

The current period can best be described as a watch—the watch on the Potomac. The next few months will tell the tale. If the Administration has been wrong and the economy gets out of hand and starts going down hill fast, the Republicans will be desperate. That is when Dwight Eisenhower will really go into action.

The President thinks he can avoid any serious drop in the economy and he sees no necessity for it in view of the general situation. He believes that fear talk, and cautious practices by business men will only tend to create an artificial, or inventory, recession. That is why he continues to appeal to the American people to have faith in their government and in the future.

Ike sincerely believes the economy is sound and kicking, and that there is no reason for gloom about the future. That is the presumption he is now acting on in what may be the most important battle in his distinguished career.

When Yuri A. Rastvorov walked out on the USSR intelligence service in Japan a couple of weeks ago he took with him secrets U. S. agents had been trying to obtain from the Russians for a long time. Rastvorov knew the top secrets too, because he was the top man in a 32 man spy ring the Russians had going in Japan.

Ever since Malenkov deposed Beria and especially since the announcement that Beria had gone down to a glorious peoples' party end before the firing squad, Rastvorov has been fed up with Malenkov and his butchers. In January he was ordered home just as have been seven other members of the Soviet spy ring in Japan. He feared a return would be his death warrant, and that was the final event that tipped the scales in favor of his defection to the United States side.

Meanwhile, U. S. intelligence officers say the conversion of Rastvorov to democracy is the intelligence equivalent to a victory like east intelligence triumph over the Midway. It is said to be our greatest intelligence triumph over the Russians in years. The Russians in Tokyo have meanwhile become completely sullen and silent on the case. When reporters call to ask about Rastvorov the Reds simply hang up the receiver without answering any questions.

10 Commandments In Raising Poultry

1. Thou shalt at all times practice good management, including breeding, selection, feeding, sanitation, and disease control in thy flock.

2. Thou shalt use labor-saving methods, such as approved poultry houses and other buildings, large or automatic feeders and waterers, and a systematic method of carrying out each day's chores.

3. Thou shalt make use of more all-pullet flocks as it is known they lay up to a third more than older hens.

4. Thou shalt use more high-energy feeds, while costing more than ordinary feeds, give higher egg production at lower cost for the number of eggs laid.

5. Thou shalt increase the size of thy flock of layers to a larger number which will pay you a profit.

6. Thou shalt plan thy program of raising pullets for highest production in late summer and fall months when eggs bring the highest prices.

7. Thou shalt systematically cull thy hens and so improve the vitality and health of thy flock, resulting in increased egg production.

8. Thou shalt not skimp on feed, neither shalt thou skimp on drinking water, nor on sunshine which thy flocks of poultry need.

9. Thou shalt encourage thy hens to eat all the feed and drink all the water they want, but thou shalt not permit them to waste feed.

10. Thou shalt keep thy hens comfortable and happy in order that they may lay well. Flocks suffer from a lack of fresh air circulating at all times through the laying house, even in cold weather.

WASNT HOLLOW!

Then there was the new bride coming into the dining room bearing a large platter and proudly exclaiming, "My first turkey."

"Why, it looks wonderful, darling," responded her spouse, "and you've stuffed it so beautifully." "Stuffed it?" echoed the bride. "This one was hollow when I bought it!"

SISTERS HAVE TRIPLE CEREMONY

"Good for him," returned the father. "Now he can walk the floor with himself at night."

THE THINKERS

CHEATED!

For many years a rancher employed a Chinese cook. After an unusually good dinner the rancher decided to raise his wages. The next day the cook noted the extra money in his envelope. "Why you pay me more?" he asked.

"Because you've been such a good cook all these years," replied the boss.

After thinking it over for a while, the Chinese said: "You been cheating me long time, eh?"

OUT OF YOUR TELEPHONE BILL last year was paid an average in Texas of $42.36 per telephone in taxes. Of this amount, almost half — $18.96 — was Federal excise or "luxury" tax. This tax we simply collected and turned over to the Federal government, at the rate of 15 per cent on your local service and long distance calls costing less than 25 cents, and 25 per cent on long distance calls costing 25 cents or more. Trip To Texas

With no important votes scheduled in the Senate, I was able to make a quick trip home last week. I spoke before a Galveston meeting of Texas bottlers of soft drinks, reporting on the first month of this session of Congress.

"Never before," I told these Texas businessmen, "have the American people so completely rejected partisanship as a guide to public policy."

I hope that condition continues. I think it will.

Tight Money

Those of us who have opposed a "hard money" policy—making money hard to get—had our stand justified when the Federal Reserve Board lowered the interest rates banks must pay in borrowing money from the Federal Reserve System.

Purpose of this step is to make money more plentiful.

The action came as the Senate House Economic Committee gave close study to the problem of rising unemployment over the country.

Great Texan

Republican Congressman T. M. Pelly of Seattle, Wash., had this to say on the House floor the other day:

"Those of us who have dealt with Secretary of the Navy Robert Anderson have gained a high respect for the conscientious and fair, as well as wise, decisions that he has made under very difficult circumstances . . . I believe that we now have one of the greatest Secretaries of the Navy this country has ever had."

Faster Mail

The Postoffice Department is continuing its experiment of transporting first-class letters by air at the regular first-class rate. The experiment, with scheduled airlines carrying the mail, at present involves New York, Washington, and Chicago.

The Postmaster General has petitioned the Civil Aeronautics Board to permit all cargo-carrying planes to participate. Certainly Texas would like to get in on this service.

Shreveport, La. — In a biting battle between little Gregory Townsend, 17-months-old, and a young moccasin snake, the snake came up on the short end. ## January Accident Figures Released

Captain J. W. Blackwell of the Texas Highway Patrol recently released facts concerning accidents in this district for January of this year as compared with the same period last year. The figures are broken down to show the number of people hurt in the district. The figures do not include accidents in cities over 2,500 population or accidents investigated by other police agencies than the Highway Patrol.

In the first month of 1954 the number of persons killed in highway accidents investigated by the Highway Patrol was three; 48 persons were injured; and the estimated property damage amounted to $72,835. During the same period last year three persons were killed; 36 injured; and property damage was estimated at $60,920.

This January a total of 72 accidents occurred on State and Federal highways. There were four accidents recorded by the Texas Highway Patrol on Farm-to-Market roads. Eleven accidents were recorded on county roads and four in small towns of less than 2,500 population.

Principal factors in the cause of the violations were listed as speeding, driving while drinking, failure to grant right-of-way, improper passing and improper thinking.

The highway patrol is basically for the purpose of supervising traffic. The three main jobs of the department are to direct traffic, investigate traffic accidents, and enforce traffic law.

In carrying out their basic functions, the 30 Texas Highway Patrolmen of the Amarillo District No. 5, which is composed of the 26 Panhandle counties, performed the following activities in January of this year: investigated 91 accidents; made 524 traffic arrests, of which 200 were for speeding and 41 were for driving while intoxicated.

During January the Patrol gave a total of 1,537 warnings for hazardous violations. These were listed as violations likely to be causative factors in accidents. Members of the Patrol traveled a distance of 117,358 miles during the month. They worked a total of 4,320 day hours and 3,123 night hours.

GRASS WIDOWS PROFIT

St. Louis. — A St. Louis judge Louis Comerford of the Court of Criminal Correction recently pointed out that women separated from their husbands are "living in clover." Supporting his theory, the judge pointed to a case before him recently. The woman received $303 monthly on relief and with contributions from her husband. The husband earns only $260 a month.

ALARM NO GOOD

Omaha, Nebr. — Because of several recent robberies, the Okay Lock and Gun Service installed an elaborate electric eye burglar system. However, another burglar got eight shotguns and rifles, 30 boxes of shells and — the burglar alarm.

CITY WORKERS SHARE PROFIT

Rochester, N. H. — Because city workers helped to pile up a $55,000 surplus in the municipal treasury, Mayor John Shaw says they are going to get "profit sharing" pay increases. The Mayor said the efficiency of the 75 city employees was a big factor in bringing about the surplus.

ALERT BOY SAVES 14

Galesburg, Ill. — When the driver of a school bus, carrying 14 pupils, collapsed at the wheel, Dale Sopher, 14, seized the steering wheel and steered it for 140 feet until it stopped with its right wheels in the ditch. The pupils climbed out an emergency rear door and revived the driver.

OUT, BACK IN 6 HOURS

Nashville, Tenn. — Released from prison after serving two years for auto larceny, Algie King, 25, was behind bars again six hours later, charged with attempted auto theft. Police found King behind the wheel of someone else's car but King explained he was "just listening to the motor run."

PROOF

"Do you think there is any truth in the theory that big creatures are better natured than small ones?" asked the intellectual young woman.

"Surely," returned the young man addressed. "Just look at the difference between the Jersey mosquito and the Jersey cow?"

Arthur S. Johnson, safety engineer: "Daily and weekly newspapers are one of the nation's most potent instruments for controlling home and highway accidents."

Charles A. Lindbergh, famed aviator: "A materialism which overemphasizes short-term survival detracts from the humanism essential to long-term survival."

Vehicle Safety Inspection Slow

State auto inspections that must be made before midnight April 15 are lagging according to the local inspection stations. Most of the people at the inspection stations are expecting a last minute rush that will jam inspections to the point that some people who delay may have to do without their cars for several days.

During the past three months the Imperial Chevrolet Company has inspected approximately 180 vehicles. Stevenson Pontiac Company announces a total of 364 vehicles inspected for 1954. Only 137 vehicles have been inspected since January 1.

Warwick McAtee inspection station lists a total of 125 vehicles inspected since January 1 and a total of 385 vehicles since 1954 inspections began. Since October 3, 1953, the West Texas Motor Co. has inspected a total of 283 vehicles. The company has inspected 119 vehicles since January 1.

CONGRESSIONAL PAY RAISE

Members of Congress are expected to vote substantial pay raises for themselves and Federal judges, effective next January. However, the special commission's recommendation that the legislators' annual gross income be hiked to $27,500 is likely to be scaled down to $26,000 or $22,500 — still a sizable boost over the present $15,000.

RED CHINA

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, in speaking to a Senate subcommittee, stated that Communist China could not be admitted to the United Nations because it did not "respect the elemental principles of international conduct." The United Nations, however, he said, could not become a universal agency without Communist China.

HOUSING UNITS

For the fifth straight year, more than 1,000,000 housing units were placed under construction in 1953. The Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Labor Department reports that 1,102,000 new, permanent, non-farm dwelling units were started last year.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN: Politically troubled waters in Duval County came to a boil as federal and state officers probed errors in impounded records.

Pressure of the investigation resulted in mass resignations including school district officials and county commissioners, all supporters of Political Boss George Parr.

Most prominent man to quit was Tax Assessor-Collector D. C. Chapa who is regarded as Parr's lieutenant.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd obtained the record impounding order from Special Judge Arthur Klein of Harlingen after some 800 cancelled checks were found missing.

State Auditor C. H. Cavness reported that the first voucher he turned over in Duval County records was the transfer of $5,000 from the jury fund to another fund.

Shepperd asserted that a jury fund is "inviolable" and could not be transferred legally into any other fund.

A squabble appeared likely over who will get to rule on Klein's temporary injunction impounding the records. Hearing on the motion is set for February 19.

District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin said he had arranged his affairs to be present for the hearing on that date.

"My understanding of the law is that when I am in the district, I am the district judge," he said.

It appeared that the matter would be settled among Klein, Laughlin, and Administrative Judge W. R. Blalock who assigned Klein to the case.

In pushing the state's case, Shepperd asked Judge Laughlin to set a hearing on a petition to discharge the Duval County grand jury because seven of its 12 members were linked with Parr.

Laughlin has stated that Shepperd will have to prove allegations that the jury couldn't make an impartial investigation involving Parr or his supporters.

"I am confident they would indict me if they thought they should — and they would waste through 17 Texas Rangers to do it," the judge said.

Removal charges against Laughlin were considered by the Texas Supreme Court.

One of the charges of official misconduct against Laughlin in the ouster proceedings was that he discharged a grand jury before it had completed an investigation.

Judge Klein presided in Duval during Laughlin's appearance before the Supreme Court.

A state witness and former deputy tax collector testified that school fund vouchers had been made to fictitious persons and the money given to George Parr on the latter's orders.

These vouchers were against the school district for the amount of teachers' contributions to the teacher retirement system, the witness said.

According to the witness, Parr had dominated the board of trustees of the district and had "taken it upon himself to countersign all vouchers" but to the witness knowledge had never been an employee of the school district.

Five Texas Rangers were stationed in San Diego. One of them, Captain Alfred Allee, had another scuffle, this time with District Attorney Raeburn Norris.

Allee also has fought with Parr and is under indictment on a charge of assault to murder the political leader.

Signs of revolt by long-time Parr supporters have also been reported. J. L. MacDonald, Benavides oil man-rancher who holds a special Texas Ranger commission, said that representatives of three prominent Duval county families claimed they had given Parr an ultimatum to clean up the mess or they would do it with or without his help.

Governor Allan Shivers declared, however, that it will take "continual vigilance" to see that the mess is stamped out.

Four "wrongs" need to be righted in Duval County, he said, listing these wrongs as the apparent misappropriation of funds, the denial of rights, the absence of a forum to which the citizens can appeal for help, and officers who deny the rights citizens ordinarily have when those citizens oppose the regime.

Texas legislators were poring over the tax revenue problem in order to raise teacher pay at a special session of the Legislature in March.

Intensifying the problem was the U. S. Supreme Court's decision striking down the natural gas pipeline tax.

There was talk of a sales tax threat. At the same time, a large gas company served notice that any move to increase natural gas taxes will be opposed.

Attorney General Shepperd announced his department has drafted new gas tax bills which were considered legal and would be available to the legislators.

Also studying the tax problem prior to the special session were the Legislative Council and the Legislative Budget Board.

Governor Shivers indicated he will submit other issues to the special session.

He declared that he plans to ask the Legislature to make membership in the Communist party a death penalty offense.

"American adherents to the international Communist conspiracy are traitors — period," he said, "and Communists should not be allowed the protection of the Constitution they are trying to wreck."

A foe of U. S. Senator Joseph McCarthy said in a speech here that he would go to jail if necessary to test in court the senator's right to question citizens about their spoken or written beliefs or their political affiliations.

Harvey O'Connor, author of several books, is under indictment for contempt of Congress. He spoke at a meeting of Americans for Democratic Action.

He refused to answer McCarthy's questions on the grounds of the first amendment which provides that Congress shall make no law abridging freedom of speech or of the press.

"When any public servant may inquire about your thoughts rather than your actions then the servant becomes the master," he said.

Governor Shivers has joined other state Democratic leaders in throwing out "peace feelers" to national party chieftains.

Invitations were sent to Adlai Stevenson and National Committee Chairman Stephen Mitchell to address the state convention of Texas Young Democrats in Mineral Wells February 26-27.

Shivers declined to support Stevenson for president in 1952. And Stevenson declined the invitation because of prior commitments, as did Senator Lyndon Johnson who was also invited to speak.

Purpose of the convention is to bring rival factions of Young Democrats into one organization. But there were signs that groups of the liberal faction would boycott the convention. A rift developed when Bill McKnight of Dallas resigned as president of the liberal group that was organized in San Antonio last fall.

He said that some of the group were "just too liberal for me."

Another party leader said that the group seems intent on a program of "rule or ruin."

Dudley T. Dougherty of Beeville, a member of the Texas Legislature, has announced he will oppose Senator Lyndon Johnson, who will seek re-election this year.

Political speculation developed over the effect of the Duval County probes on this important race. In the 1948 race between Johnson and Coke Stevenson, a delayed count in Jim Wells County changed the results by more than 200 votes. Johnson became senator by a margin of 87 votes.

SHORT SNORTS: Texas GOP strategists are encouraging cross-filing by candidates who might be acceptable to both parties in the July primaries. . . 26 counties have qualified to run for five places in the Texas House of Representatives on March 6. . . Texans will soon be offered a state-wide program of individual and group fire control methods, according to state civil defense and disaster relief officials.

Fire accounted for 80 percent of the damage in the Japanese cities that were struck by atomic bombs. It is considered one of the chief dangers in all types of disasters, the officials stated.

Food supply is ample for the world, next F. A. O. chief says.

French People Are Sick and Tired Of Long, Costly War in Indo-China

European Correspondent

PARIS: With the war in Korea at a halt, many of us tend to forget that France is still in the midst of a bloody conflict in Indo-China. I have just spoken with an old woman dressed in black who will never forget, however, for she has lost two sons in the fighting in Indo-China.

The drain is felt everywhere here among the men and women who gather to read the casualty lists as they are posted in the shops, where the cost of war has boosted prices out of proportion, in industry where strategic materials are sometimes scarce and expensive, and in the country's politics where the "stupid adventure" in Indo-China has been used as bait to make one Government after another fail.

The gold star mother to whom I listened knew little of the issues involved, to her it appeared unbelievable that Frenchmen should be fighting in such a remote place. She expressed a bitterness with the whole business that is evident among all the people one talks with in Paris today.

The French want not only to be done with the war in Indo-China but wish to pull out of the Far East altogether notwithstanding the issues involved. They are sick and tired of what they believe to be a waste in the country's manpower and resources. They feel neglected and insist that while they have in a sense been fighting the West's battle against the Communists, their effort has been both misunderstood and overlooked.

They complain that Washington has paid scant heed to their needs and to the awkwardness of their military and political position in that area. That they have lost battle after battle to the Viet Minh, the French insist was due to their lack of equipment. This in reality is not altogether true for it now seems that the basic cause of both the bad French fighting and morale was a tiredness and disappointment with a struggle that appeared to go on forever without getting anywhere.

Ambushed and outfought in the swamps and disease-infested jungles, a deep depression overcame not only the troops in the field, but more important the people back here in France. Three months ago everybody was ready to call it all a futile loss.

It is evident that a change for the better has taken place. With the appointment of General Navarre to Indo-China, morale has improved tremendously . . . even at home. The new tactics of making the Communists fight in the open for their food and supplies is paying off.

The increased use by the French of native Indo-China troops and giving the people in that country a greater measure of independence in conducting their own affairs is an important factor as well in the improved situation. It is something France should have done long ago. All this makes for a healthier attitude both in Indo-China itself and here in Paris where the people now at least see the possibility of an outcome in the not too distant future.

Ironically, the Communists have just put on one of their biggest offensives even as peace talks was at its highest pitch in years. The United States has pledged more technical and air aid and the fighting is growing in scope. But it is hoped here that the Communist effort is designed to secure better truce terms, in an eventual settlement. That is what everyone in France seems to want.

Just Between You, Me . . . . . . and the Gatepost

By Lawrence Hunnicutt

During a discussion last week someone brought up the subject concerning the need for an Ex-Student Association for West Texas State College. It seems that the college needs an Ex-Student's Association for the same reason that people need new clothes occasionally and for the same reason that people purchase later model cars rather than continue driving an old model. The college needs an Ex-Students Association to keep pace with modern developments. And don't get it confused with the saying, "keeping up with the Joneses," there's a huge difference.

Tomorrow night the Lions are sponsoring a circus which will give one show at 8 o'clock in the West Texas State College Fieldhouse. The money the Lions get from this endeavor will go to the Lions Club general fund for community projects and the Lions Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville. Biggest profit coming to the Lions Club will be through advance ticket sales. These can be purchased from any member of the Lions Club.

Next week is the big week for the public schools. This institution is now a little over 100 years old. The growth of public schools has been no less than phenomenal during this period. The schools started with $2,000,000 in 1854 and today the public schools have resources valued at nearly $200,000,000. This is gaining almost at the rate of $200,000,000 in 100 years, or $2,000,000 annually. Any way you look at it, it's a wonderful growth for a wonderful institution, and may the next 100 years be just as phenomenal.

We have another organization that has been making wonderful progress during the past few years and that's the Randall County Junior Livestock Association. Members of the Association that have been with it since its beginning recall the first animals of nearly ten years ago and the ones being shown now. They don't hesitate to say the animals show better grooming, better feeding, and better care than when the Association first started.

The American Heritage Project is one organization that could help this country have a better government. From what we have learned about the organization so far, it seems that it is one of the best places to keep up with political trends and developments. The various discussions of the group are sure to present an excellent political picture.

When Bob Izzard explained the purpose of the "Golden Spread" he said that it would require about five years to really put the organization over. If it continues to progress the way it has in the past few weeks the idea shouldn't require more than two years to have people everywhere talking about our nice weather. Of course there'll be a bad day occasionally but one thing about it, bad weather here doesn't last more than a day or two.

Wonder how many people in this vicinity there are eligible for the VFW Club who don't belong? It's a nice club and they have a very nice clubhouse out northwest of town. There's a small stream that has catfish, perch and crappie in it and the grounds are beautiful for picnicking. If you're a veteran who has served overseas, see Johnnie McBroom and get signed up, you'll enjoy your association with the other veterans.

Now that gardening season is almost here a lot of putting about in the soil is being done. Before it's over a lot of them will be so disgusted that they could throw in the towel.

A freshman girl was overheard asking a sophomore if a neckerchief was the president of a sorority.

When Mary said, "They say kisses are the language of love," John said, "Well, come baby, speak up."

Have you ever thought that a lot more people will fight for freedom of speech than will use it?

A Good Tool In Good Hands

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18th CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Taxes

The tax-writing Ways and Means Committee of Congress is moving along on the rewriting of the tax laws. Many changes are being made. Some of these will result in tax relief for particular groups.

So far, there has been no across-the-board relief indicated for the lower income brackets. An effort was made to increase the individual exemptions from $600 to $700, but this was defeated by a close margin. It will be brought up again on the House Floor, so watch for a fight.

The tax bill cannot be amended on the House Floor, but it can be sent back to the committee with instructions to increase the individual exemptions. If the motion to do this prevails, it will mean tax relief for the lower income brackets. The tax law includes practically all of the tax program of the United States government, and the Ways and Means Committee would not hold the bill in committee, as such action could cause much damage to the credit of this country.

The Money Bills

The House has passed the first of the appropriation bills. This was the appropriation for the Treasury Department and the Post Office Department for the fiscal year 1955, which begins on July 1, 1954.

The Appropriations Sub-committee worked long and hard on this bill, but were unable to come up with any measurable cuts. The over-all appropriation recommended in the bill for both the Treasury Department and the Post Office Department was $3,333,241,600.00. The amount asked by the Administration was $3,338,783,000.00. This simply means that only $5,541,400 was cut off of a bill in excess of three billion dollars.

This sum did not include the fixed charges of interest on the public debt. In 1954 the interest on the public debt was $6,525,000,000.00. Due to increases in the interest rate, as well as the issuance of some additional securities, the Treasurer estimates that the cost of interest for the coming fiscal year will be $6,800,000,000.00.

This simply means that the American taxpayer will have to pay an additional $275,000,000.00 in interest during the 1955 fiscal year. This is approximately three quarters of a million dollars a day. This is, of course, in addition to the approximately $175,000,000.00 each day that is being paid by the American taxpayer to finance the public debt in interest charges alone.

A Visit With Mrs. Eisenhower

My better half, to wit, Jean, thinks that Mrs. Eisenhower is tops. She was with her at a luncheon recently and came home singing her praises. She was especially praising her excellent sense of humor and the complete ease with which she converses.

I tried to find out what was talked about, but, as usual, was unsuccessful. I have often wondered what the conversation consisted of at these all-female luncheons, but have never been able to find out from the little lady. She doesn't talk in her sleep, so I am completely lost, unless an outsider will help me out.

WINTERS AND FLYNN ARE PARK H. D. CLUB HOSTESSES

The Park Home Demonstration Club held its second meeting of the month Thursday in the country home of Mrs. Flynn Winters. Roll call was answered with "name and something about a president or secretary of another club in the county."

The program was "Use Your Bible," which was very interesting. Present were Mesdames G. A. Colling, Frank Simon, Les Raymond, L. W. Winters, Nell Sheets, Herrick Simon, Arthur McCandless, Debby and Elsie, Raymond Winters, Sherry and Darline. Visitors listed were Sherry and Darline.

Mrs. Winters was hostess of this second meeting of the month. The first meeting of the month was held in the home of Mrs. Frank Simon. At this meeting roll call was answered with an interesting fact about George Washington.

Miss Lou Ella Patterson, Randall County Home Demonstration agent, gave a demonstration on "uses of the living room." In addition, she showed pictures of interesting living rooms. Refreshments of donuts, cocoa, tea and coffee were served to Mesdames Herrick Simon, Les Raymond, Mary Simon, Leonard Winters, Flynn Winters, Miss Patterson, Raymond Winters, and the hostess, Frank Simon. Mrs. Arthur McCandless was the visitor at this meeting.

Next meeting of the club will be held in the home of Mrs. Nell Sheets, 2110 Sixth Avenue, Canyon.

MRS. RAY McREYNOLDS IS HOSTESS TO 1925 BRIDGE CLUB

A George Washington birthday motif was carried out in tallies and refreshments.

Tea hour guests were Mrs. Cecil Simms and Mrs. Duane Howard. Members attending were Mesdames M. R. Calliham, John Williams, Iverson Leake, Newton Crain, C. Boone McClure, J. D. ## Bufs Down Two; Two More To Go

Coach Gus Miller's Buffaloes trampled Arizona State College at Tempe Thursday night by a score of 104 to 76 in the Fieldhouse and Saturday night they repeated with a 79-77 victory over Arizona University of Tucson. The two games brought the Buffs a bit of revenge because they suffered defeat at the hands of both these teams on their road trip to Arizona early this month.

Thursday night was the first time the Buffs had scored 100 points in one game since the construction of the new gym. When the Buffs visited Tucson the Arizona University team defeated them by a score of 65-52. On the same road trip Arizona State of Tempe defeated the Buffs 77-79, the same score that the Buffs defeated Arizona University here Saturday night.

The Buffs trailed most of the way in the game Saturday night. During the final minutes of the game it was a see-saw battle with first the Buffs then the Arizona Wildcats taking the lead. Then with less than two minutes to go in the game the Buffs managed to get a four point lead and the Wildcats scored only one field goal during the remaining seconds of the game, and the Buffs came out victorious by two points.

Two more games remain on the Buffalo schedule this season. If the Buffs win both games they will be in a tie position with Texas Tech for first place in the Border Conference. They journey to Abilene Saturday night where they meet the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys and on March 2 they visit Lubbock where they meet the Red Raiders of Texas Tech.

The Army has announced that its 48-ton tanks can now put on water wings to cross deep streams and lakes and keep on fighting at the same time. The development of flotation equipment, in the form of big floats made from a solid, foam-type plastic, has been tested and found to be feasible.

Weather Clear TRACK EAST Fatal!

When racing drivers are out for new speed records, they pray for a clear, fast track.

But those same conditions on the nation's highways produce different records—deadly records! Last year 80 per cent of fatal accidents, 26,280 occurred in clear weather on straight, dry roads. Only one answer—too much speed, too little control.

Highways are not raceways, but every road has its dread quota of "race track fringe" drivers. One highway safety authority says: "It is not a question of what is a safe speed—now it is what is a 'survival speed' for the average driver? It isn't up in the 65 miles an hour and plus range, where sustained momentum hypnotizes the senses, where impact is deadly. Now we must slow down to live!"

In the last four years average speeds have been creeping up until more than half of all rural driving, passenger cars and buses, are now exceeding fifty miles per hour with many of them doing well over sixty.

This high speed hysteria must be tamed. It has become a national emergency to be met by indignant public demand for more and stricter law enforcement. Let's stop this losing race with Death!

Depression or No Depression?

It would be foolish to deny that considerable concern is being felt about the business and unemployment situation now. In some circles, the fear is openly expressed that we may be heading into really hard times. And it is certainly true that only the extremely optimistic expect 1954 to measure up to 1953, when all kinds of high records were established.

An excellent feature article on what is happening and what may be expected appeared in the February 1 issue of Newsweek. It started out with a $64 question—"just what is a depression, anyway?" It is a safe bet that very few people could give anything resembling a clear answer to that—too many imponderables are involved, and there are too many varying measures of comparison. Any depression will differ from others in degree. It is often said that we will be in a real depression if unemployment reaches 10,000,000. Yet, to scrape a bottom comparable to that of 1933, our unemployment rolls would have to total close to 16,000,000.

Newsweek said, "... a depression is a broad set of conditions which defies pin-pointing. In general, it's a sharp, steady, and prolonged drop in production. It's a steady growth in unemployment ... And, as much as anything else, a depression is a state of mind ... fears mount ... It's a snowballing effect."

The magazine then presented the ideas of two economists. One is a British expert, who has been a close observer of American affairs, Colin Clark. Mr. Clark takes a pretty dark view. He thinks—with certain qualifications—that a depression is coming, even though it may be a short one. This opinion is based, in part, on what he considers a relatively low money supply, abnormally high business inventories, and not enough new construction.

An opposed case is offered by Professor E. S. Woytinsky of Johns Hopkins, an economist of international reputation whose forecasts have often been remarkably accurate in the past. He contradicts Mr. Clark on every score, and writes: "There is no indication that depression conditions could develop. The bullish attitude of the consumers, the optimism of investment banks, the high level of construction activities, the active interest in business development shown by the government, the cut in taxes ... all these factors exclude the possibility of a major depression." He adds that we are now in a comparatively minor recession which soon will end, with the low reached before the middle of the year.

Newsweek also provided a forecast, based on a canvas of a large number of economists and businessmen. And it is certainly not a discouraging one, even though some people are due to be hurt and unemployment will probably average 3,000,000 for the year. The magazine said: "... it adds up to a time of appraisal, a breathing spell in which business can take time out, clear away the confusion, reset its sights. So how about the scare talk that is worrying so many Americans? The answer: a sliding off from the super-boom, yes. A bust, no—very far from it. The biggest problem: scare talk itself. And the facts make it clear such talk isn't justified."

POSTAL RATE INCREASE

The House Postoffice and Civil Service Committee approved, by a vote of 13-to-7, a proposal to raise postal rates by $240,000,000 a year. About $159,000,000 of this total would be paid by those mailing letters and other first-class matter. Under the bill, first-class letters mailed out of town would cost four cents instead of the present three cents.

BUSINESS DECLINE

President Eisenhower called the present business decline a period of transition from war to peace and predicted that the nation would make the change without serious interruption to stability and growth.

MOTOR VEHICLE TOLL

The motor vehicle was the nation's No. 1 killer again in 1953, as in the last several years, with 38,300 deaths reported as a result of traffic accidents. This was the third largest such toll in history and only about 1700 below the all-time high of 39,969 in 1941.

DIVIDEND PAYMENTS

Corporations that publicly report their dividend payments paid out $8,546,000,000 in 1953 — two and a half per cent more than in 1952, according to the Commerce Department.

FACTS OF LIFE

Saleslady: "Here's a lovely doll. You lay her down and she closes her eyes just like a real little girl."

Father: "I guess, lady, you never had a real little girl."

HEAVILY LOADED

The treasurer, dictating letter: "From the comparative size of the coal shipment and the bill, I should say you got them mixed—you should have sent the coal by mail and the bill by freight."

NO MORE PAN-HANDLING

One vacationer reports seeing this sign in a restaurant on his travels: "Pies like mother used to make before she took up bridge and cigarettes."

MISUNDERSTOOD

Wife — Darling, the new maid has burned the bacon and eggs. Would you be satisfied with a couple of kisses for breakfast? Hubby — Sure. Bring her in.

WHAT IS LOVE

"I love you" is all the secret that many, nay, most women have to tell. When that is said, they are like China-crackers on the morning of the fifth of July.

What makes people happy? Millions of dollars have been spent trying to figure that one. Thousands of homes have split because somebody guessed the wrong answer.

We sat in the car outside a general store the other afternoon while the spouse was inside. A couple in their twenties came out with their arms around each other, so radiantly happy that we took a second look. She was holding a potted ivy plant and their interest seemed focused on this 50-cent buy. Maybe they had just built an ivy shelf, repainted the kitchen, or bought a long-cherished coffee table. But whatever it was, that ivy represented a gratified wish.

Soon a white-haired couple strolled up. They examined the balled shrubs and trees with complete absorption. What looked like a couple of peach switches held their interest for long minutes, as they debated the six-foot versus the four-foot one. Presently they went inside and came out happily bearing a piece of wire screen two feet square. Whatever its purpose, that small investment had made two people happy for one afternoon.

A little boy, waiting for his dad, was allowed by his mother to get out of the car and play on the children's slides and swings. His face showed happy disbelief then sheer joy at this unexpected freedom.

A one-year-old wallowed happily over his mother's shoulders and head in a car nearby as she calmly read the newspaper, never scolding him for wiggling or for rumpling her hair.

In the case of the couples, it was a shared pleasure; some plan they had agreed upon. In the case of the children, it was an understanding mother, who granted them some rights as persons even though they were small fry. For all of them, happiness meant someone had found the secret to good human relations.

Is it the people who put love and understanding ahead of dollars and cents that have the answer? We wouldn't know.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

President Eisenhower is lining up strongly on the side of advisors who favor positive action by Government to make sure that no deflation spiral gets started, and against those who advocate fence sitting. Tax cuts are the anti-recession weapon the President likes best.

George Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury, is to be the big pump primer of the Eisenhower Administration. Mr. Humphrey's pump-priming technique is being cut out for him. It involves paying a lot of bills with borrowed money.

Democrats in Congress are telling this story to illustrate the basis for their hope of a comeback in November elections: A father cast his vote for the Republicans in 1952 to get his boy back from Korea. The boy came back from Korea, all right, but his two other boys also came back from Detroit.

Walter Reuther, CIO president, who is deeply concerned about unemployment, is adding to that problem by firing 35 out of 260 CIO organizers. The union-organizing business is reported not to be as brisk as it was.

Mr. Eisenhower, to ease the tension at a recent meeting with supporters of the Bricker amendment, said his opposition to that amendment "is about to get me kicked out of the Eisenhower family." He explained that his lawyer brother, Edgar N. Eisenhower, of Tacoma, Wash., is as staunch a supporter of the amendment as Senator Bricker himself.

Sherman Adams, staff chief to the President, forced the resignation from a presidential commission of Clarence Manion, former dean of law at Notre Dame University, who has actively favored the Bricker amendment to the Constitution to limit the treaty-making powers of the President. Republican Senators are openly concerned about political repercussions from this firing.

Mr. Eisenhower is going to find it necessary to recognize Senator William Langer, chairman of the powerful Senate Judiciary Committee, when passing around jobs in North Dakota, if he expects to get the Senator's co-operation. Senator Langer also makes no bones of the fact that he feels the White House is by-passing his State when it comes to appointments to jobs other than those around the clerical level.

President Eisenhower is now following a practice of asking a member of Congress to come to the White House to get the news from the President personally when a favor, asked by the Congressman, is granted. The personal touch is felt to have a lasting effect.

Word is getting around the top reaches of Government that the White House has no objection to appointment of more Republicans to Government jobs. What puzzles some officials doing the hiring, though, is that many Democrats, seeking jobs, come with letters of recommendation from Republican members of Congress.

Thomas Dewey vs. Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., looks more and more as if it is to be the headline race in this political year, with the prize the Governorship of New York and a later chance at the Presidency.

Joseph Dodge, Budget Director, like other directors before him, really is fixing this country's military strategy by his control over the purse strings. Military men have to jump when he gives the orders.

Arthur Radford, Chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, sits over what is only nominally a unanimous body of military men. Important members of Congress are becoming aware that there is far from a meeting of military minds on the wisdom of the "New Look" in the armed services.

Georgi Malenkov, Russia's Premier, revealed clearly through the strategy he directed in Berlin Big Four meetings that Russia is placing primary reliance upon military force to maintain its empire in Central Europe. Diplomats consider this the one basic revelation of latest talks.

Kremlin's purge in Kazakh, Russia's Texas, which fronts the Middle East, reflects Soviet fears of the growing military strength of the Moslem world. Kazakh is mostly Moslem and its loyalty to Moscow might weaken.

The Shah of Iran is getting more millions from the U. S. to keep his country going until Iranian oil starts flowing again. Washington's gifts to Iran will come close to 100 million dollars in the year that ends June 30.

Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother, is not happy that his plan for greater participation in a development program for Latin America is being sidetracked. U. S. is entering Hemisphere talks with little tangible to offer, since major attention centers on Europe and Asia.

Are You A Friend?

"Blessed are they who have the gift of making friends. For it is one of God's best gifts. It involves many things, but above all, the power of going out of one's self, and appreciating whatever is noble and loving in another," wrote Thomas Hughes, a well known American author.

Everyone at Canyon High School has the gift of friendship, but do we use it? Are we friendly to everyone or a small group of people? In our school there is a tendency for small "clicks" to form, simply because we do not use our gift of friendship.

Let us learn to help ourselves by helping others. Help new students at our school to get to know us and our school. We can help them only by making friends with them. Introduce yourselves to them and greet them with a friendly smile and a cheerful "hello."

"Snobbery is the pride of those who are not sure of their position," said Berton Braley. Do you want Canyon High School to get the name of a "snob school?" There is one way to prevent this: Put your gift of friendship to use.

Let us remember to help ourselves by helping others. Be friendly.

The Eaglettes were also defeated by the girls from Dumas, 53 to 42. Barbara Bacon led Canyon's scoring with 13 points. She was followed by Jo Ann Mickey with 12 and Rhea June Ford with 10. The Eaglettes will lose only two seniors from the squad, Martha McBroom and Jo Ann Mickey.

West Texas Buffalo Band; Soloists Provide Assembly Entertainment

To begin their annual spring concert tour, the West Texas State College Buffalo Band performed for the high school assembly February 16.

After the introduction of the director, M. J. Newman, the band played "The Star-Spangled Banner" by Francis Scott Key.

The second number was "Overture" from "Music for a Festival," written for a brass choir by Gordon Jacob. The picturesque "March to the Scaffold," by Hector Berlioz, told the story of a man who was sent to the guillotine and the dream he had before he was executed.

Peggy Williams, clarinetist, one of the featured soloists of the band, played "Concertino, Opus 26," by Carl Maria von Weber, accompanied by the band.

The fifth musical sketch was "Ouvre Ton Coeur," written by Georges Bizet preceding "The Suite of Old American Dances," the Scottish and Western One Step, by Robert Russell Bennett.

"Arrangers' Holiday," better known to the public as "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star," arranged by Bennett, Walters, and Yoder provided a variety of tempos from one simple tune.

An encore march, "Army of the Nile," by Kenneth J. Alford, was the last scheduled number, and a new arrangement of the West Texas State "Alma Mater" concluded the program.

The 85-piece Buffalo Band is under the assistant direction of Clyde Swartzell and Gerald Smith, and features Marilyn Cowan, Peggy Williams, and Purris Williams as soloists.

Instrumental Seven Give Demonstration

Seven CHS band members and two WT band members demonstrated their instruments to the boys and girls from the grade school Tuesday afternoon, February 16. The people played a scale, then played their highest notes and their lowest notes to give the kids an idea of the range of the instrument, and then played a short solo. The instruments demonstrated were clarinet, bassoon, oboe, flute, French horn, trombone, baritone, saxophone, and cornet.

Also, the band sold sandwiches, coffee, and cookies Saturday, Feb. 20, at the livestock show to raise money for the seniors' jackets which the band gives graduating seniors each year.

Committee Plans Freshman Party

Construction Begins on New School

Work has begun on the new elementary school building which will be located in the southern part of Canyon. The ground has been levelled and excavation for the boiler room has been completed. Laying of the foundation will be begun in the next few days. This building will house approximately 600 students from the first through the sixth grades.

Twenty-four classrooms, a special education room, teachers' lounge, cafeteria, and an auditorium, which will double for a play room, have been planned. There will be an administrative area that will include a workroom, bookroom, principal's office, and clerk's office.

This fireproof structure of masonry, brick, and steel will have tile floors, central heating by hot water or steam, bilateral lighting from the windows, cross ventilation, and incandescent lighting in the ceiling. This type building is the latest in modern school design.

William C. Townes, architect from Amarillo, drew the plans for this building.

Improvements to be made in the high school are being studied and definite announcements will be made in the near future.

JazziBelles On Lions Program

Members of the Lions Club enjoyed a program of songs Wednesday at their weekly luncheon. The JazziBelles, a girl's sextet from West Texas State College, sang the songs that made up the musical program of the Lions.

The college girls sang three songs. These were, "I Get the Blues When It Rains," "On a Slow Boat to China," and "I Don't Care Who Knows It."

Three of the Lions who have become new fathers recently were given gifts. These three were J. T. Harp, Gene Davis, and Clark Harvey. They were given gifts for the babies.

R. E. McCormack, another new father in the Lions' ranks, passed out cigars. His baby's arrival was too recent for the Lions to have a gift prepared for him.

Two guests were entertained by the Lions. W. L. (Bill) Matthews was the guest of Richmond Hales and Bill Potts was the guest of Dr. W. J. Wooten.

Cavness Family To Attend Dedication

Tomorrow Mrs. T. H. Knighton and three other brothers and sisters will attend the dedication of the Church, Seminary and Cavness Memorial at the Baptist Theological Seminary, Coahuila, Mexico. Mrs. Knighton is one of the Cavness children. Others are Dr. R. M. Cavness of Uvalde, C. H. Cavness of Austin, and Mrs. Herbert Esse of Corpus Christi.

The Cavness Memorial is the result of a request for friends not to send flowers to the funeral of Mr. and Mrs. William McCary Cavness who died within 14 months of each other. He died in January, 1950, and she passed away in March, 1951. Instead of sending flowers friends contributed to the memorial fund which went to the Mexican church.

Mrs. Knighton said Rev. James D. Crane, president of the seminary, is a close friend of the Cavness family. She added that the Cavness family was happy to dedicate the memorial fund to this field of endeavor as church work is one of the most important works possible to carry on.

UMBARGER 4-H CLUB MEETS

NEW DEFENSE POLICY

In explaining this Government's "new" defense policy, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said it was based on a "great capacity to retaliate" against any aggressor "instantly" by means and at places of our own choosing. He said greater reliance is being placed on "deterrent power" and less on "local" defensive power.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

There's something about Iowa atmosphere and traditions that prompts its folks to stand up and be counted with no double talk.

Latest evidence of this fact is the action the W. A. Sheaffer Pen Company of Iowa, in hiring not one, but three leading detective agencies to learn how discount houses are getting their merchandise to sell below Fair Trade prices.

This story almost ranks with the man who bit the dog, because in 1953 discount houses sold approximately $125,000 worth of Scheaffer products.

Yet the old, established Iowa company whose policies have built a dealership corps of 38,000, is willing to spend far more money to stop bootlegging of their products.

Here is the issue.

Most manufacturers, even when their brands are not Fair Traded establish fair retail prices. In some appliance lines franchises are revoked for selling below these prices.

The reason is simple. Regardless of quality controls exercised in any factory, there is bound to be defects in a certain percentage of the gross output. Manufacturers depend upon dealers to take care of any defective merchandise. Therefore, a retail price is set which returns the dealer a fair profit and reimburses him for the cost of any service he must extend.

But all over the nation discount houses keep springing up, selling standard brands at a discount. The buyers are given no protection, no service, and often not even true representation of the model they are buying. In addition, discount houses often pitch their tent, disrupt the market, then steal away, leaving the public holding the bag.

When established dealers are hurt by this unfair competition, many manufacturers verbally deplore the situation and fall back on a defense like this: "We don't sell them, and we don't know how they get our merchandise. We'd like to stop them, so if you hear how they are getting it, you let us know, and we'll try and do something."

Some manufacturers following this double talk practice have been accused of violating anti-trust laws, so no doubt they have been well tutored in the art of lip service by the government officials who should have proceeded against them.

But out in Iowa folks don't put much store in double talk.

So the W. A. Sheaffer Pen Company not only takes the stand that it wants to protect legitimate dealers and the public, it is going even further and spending substantial sums of money to investigate and obtain the evidence needed to stop unfair practices with their brand, even though it will mean a loss of volume to them.

Naturally, some of the "wise guys" who are engaged in carrying water on both shoulders will try to deprecate the Sheaffer action as a publicity build up to impress dealers.

But there are still many people who subscribe to the old tenet, "By their deeds shall ye know them." And the Sheaffer people have done far more than sympathetic tongue-clucking. They have adopted traditional American policy of taking action.

"Poor Man's Court" Slow in Catching On in Randall Co.

Although "justice for all" has always been an ideal of the American way of life, this goal has often been difficult of achievement in cases involving amounts of money too small to warrant the outlay of the usual and customary court costs involved in obtaining a legal judgment. However, in 1953 the Texas Legislature created a system of "Small Claims Courts" which appear to be making progress in that type of cases.

Lawsuits formerly requiring a minimum expenditure in excess of $10.00 for court costs may now be tried for a total cost of only $2.00, and without the formal pleadings required in other courts. This latter feature results in lower attorney fees when counsel is employed, and cases can be processed without assistance from attorneys if the parties so desire.

Applying to all claims for money debts not exceeding $50.00 and for wages not exceeding $100.00, the new law provides that the justices of the peace shall sit as judges of the Small Claims Courts in their own precincts and counties. Hearings must be informal, "with the sole objective of dispensing speedy justice between the parties."

In these new courts legal actions are commenced by the filing of a simple statement made under oath, describing the claim concisely and without technicality. Blank claim forms are supplied by the justice of the peace. Following filing of the sworn claim, citizens are issued in the same manner as in any other case in Justice Court, and defendants are directed to appear and answer.

If a defendant fails to appear at the proper time and place on the date specified for the hearing on the claim, the judge will enter judgment for the plaintiff for the amount proved to be due him. If the plaintiff does not appear, the judge may enter an order dismissing the case.

During the hearing the judge listens to testimony from the plaintiff, the defendant, and from any witnesses produced by either side. He is also empowered to question any witness or party and to summon additional witnesses to the extent necessary "to effect a correct judgment and speedily dispose of such case."

Either party to a suit in Small Claims Court may arrange for trial of the case before a jury by filing a request with the judge at least one calendar day prior to the date set for the hearing. In such event the requesting party must pay a jury fee of $3.00.

Upon concluding the hearing the judge is directed to "render such judgment as the justice of the case shall require." If the judgment is against the defendant and he fails to pay the same forthwith, execution may be levied against his property as in other justice court cases.

Parties dissatisfied with the judgment may appear to the County Court (or County Court at Law in some counties) where the amount in controversy exceeds $20.00. In such event no further pleadings are required, and the appellate court is required to dispose of the appeal "with all convenient speed."

The Small Claims Courts have been in operation only a short time, as the creating statute became effective on August 26, 1953. Reports indicate, however, that these so-called "poor man's courts" are already proving their worth. They have helped many Texans settle pay disputes and collect wages and salaries due them, and have placed speedy justice within the reach of even the lowest of income groups.

A REAL 'ROAD HOG'
Wynnewood, Okla. — Remembering that a hog caused an accident in the area in which two persons were killed, two highway patrolmen stopped to shoo a hog from the road back into a field. The "road hog" had other ideas, however, and charged the troopers like a wild boar. They scampered back to their patrol car with the hog nipping at their heels. After repeated efforts to chase him failed, the officers shot the hog.

Truth Or Consequences, N. M. — Eight persons in one car, four of them children, were killed in a collision between an auto and a truck which sheared off half the abutments of a concrete bridge here. The victims were all passengers in the car which plunged through the bridge siding into a dry creek bed and burst into flames.

Canned Meat Ideal for Quick Meal on Cold Nights

BY DOROTHY MADDON

FOR cold nights when there is not much time to get dinner, use canned meat. Or serve canned beans, either New England style or packed in tomato sauce. Give them distinctive flavor by adding a little molasses.

Here are three combination recipes that save you time yet give the family good hot food when the winds blow cold.

Savory Baked Beans (4 generous servings)

One quarter cup unsulphured molasses, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, ¼ teaspoon Tabasco sauce, 2 1-pound cans baked beans, 1 onion, sliced.

Combine unsulphured molasses, vinegar, mustard and Tabasco; mix well. Empty beans into skillet or casserole; stir in molasses mixture. Arrange onion slices on top of beans or layer with beans. Simmer in skillet on top of range 10 to 15 minutes, or bake in casserole in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) 30 minutes.

Luncheon Meat—Sweet Potato Puff (4 servings)

Two pounds sweet potatoes, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons unsulphured molasses, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup raisins, 1 can luncheon meat, 1 orange, peeled and sliced; 1 tablespoon brown sugar.

Cook potatoes in boiling water until tender. Drain and peel. Mash potatoes. Add butter, molasses and salt; beat until light and fluffy. Stir in raisins. Place potatoes in a shallow casserole.

Cut luncheon meat into 6 slices; arrange meat on top of potatoes with halved orange slices. Sprinkle meat with brown sugar. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 20 minutes.

Vienna Sausage Dinner (4 servings)

Four and one half tablespoons dry skim milk, 1½ cups water, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 1½ pounds small white onions, cooked; 2 cans Vienna sausage.

Sprinkle dry skim milk on top of water. Beat slowly with rotary beater until dissolved; reserve. Melt butter. Add flour, salt and pepper; stir to a smooth paste. Add reserved liquid and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add onions; heat. Heat Vienna sausage in own liquid. Turn creamed onions into serving dish; top with Vienna sausage.

Whether it's luncheon meat with sweet potato puff, left, or Vienna sausage with creamed white onions, your family will agree it's the perfect meal for a cold night.

OR DOES HE?

Father was deep in his easy chair relaxing after a hard day's work, Junior, age 5, was annoying him with an endless succession of unanswerable questions. "Daddy, what do you do at your job?" he finally asked. "Nothing," shouted the father. Junior pondered for a moment, then said: "How do you know when you're through?"

My 3-year-old daughter and I were eating lunch in a local cafe, and near the end of the meal she began shaking salt in her hand and eating it. A friend of mine stopped at the table just as I was reprimanding her for eating so much salt.

"Salt will make all your teeth fall out," he said.

She waited a few minutes, silently, put her hand to her teeth, and said, "They're not out yet."

KILLED ON RETIREMENT DAY

Windsor, Ont. — Percy New, 65, a Canadian customs officer, was accidentally killed when a truck, being examined at customs, backed up and struck him. It was New's last day on the job. In a few more hours he would have retired after completing 25 years of service.

LIFETIME TASK

Proud New Father — "So this is the little chap who is to carry on my name! Quite a responsibility, eh, Nurse?"

Nurse — "It certainly is, Mr. Sczypkolowski."

ALL HAVE BIRTHDAY

Omaha, Nebr. — Mrs. Elmer Claussen was 31 years old when the first twin, Pamela, was born at 11:43 p. m. However, 23 minutes later at 12:06 a. m. the next day, Patricia arrived. Her mother was then 32 — it being her birthday, too. The Claussens have three other children.

DETERMINED THIEVES

Paris. — Determined safe-breakers tunneled through three 20-inch thick walls here to steal some $55,000 worth of gems and watches from a local jeweler.

WELL! WELL!

Hollywood, Calif. — Now, the tippler's conscience can be clear. There's a new bar here called "The Office." Now, business men can telephone their wives and say, with clear conscience, "Dear, I'll be a little late tonight, I'm doing some things at the office."

COLORFUL JAIL

American Falls, Idaho. — Recently, when the jail was empty for a few days, Power county commissioners decided to paint it to make it more colorful. They did. The walls are leaf-green, the floor is maroon and the cell bars are silver.

OFTEN IS

Spring May Be Near, But Is Uncertainty

"Spring may be just around the corner, but we've still got some slippery roadways to travel before we turn that corner!"

Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association, who heads up the February traffic safety program which the Texas Safety Association is conducting in cooperation with the Texas Department of Public Safety, gave that reminder to drivers and walkers today.

He warned especially against treacherous ice patches that drivers and walkers may come upon suddenly when they least expect them.

"It's the surprise element that makes these patches dangerous," Col. Tilley explained. "At this time of year roads are likely to be fairly clear of snow and ice. Consequently, drivers travel at a faster pace than they would if roads were coated with ice or snow. This increase in speed is enough to throw an automobile into a dangerous skid if the car suddenly hits an ice patch."

He said that pedestrians, too, are likely to relax their vigilance as snow and ice disappear from the sidewalks. Hurrying along at a pace geared to clear surfaces, a walker can suffer a painful fall if he unsuspectingly steps on an ice patch in the roadway or sidewalk.

Col. Tilley urged walkers and drivers to keep a constant lookout for these small areas of extremely slippery ice that may exist on apparently clear road surfaces. He said, "They are most likely to be found in shaded areas, on bridges or any place where normal thawing is retarded."

BANK ROBBERIES

Bank robberies rose to their highest level in 1953 since the crime-ridden 1930's. There were 418 bank robberies, burglaries, and larcenies in 1953 — a jump of 27 per cent over the 1952 figure and the highest total since the passage of the Federal bank robbery law in 1939.

NAVAL REDUCTION

"And how is your husband getting on with his reducing exercises?"

"You'd be surprised. That battleship he had tattooed on his stomach is now only a rowboat."

Call on Your Doctor Advised

AUSTIN: Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, says that far too many people worry over symptoms they believe to indicate heart trouble and their fear keeps them from seeing the family physician. This is unfortunate because many times an examination would reveal that they do not have heart disease. Persons whose examination shows heart impairment have a much better chance to live a happy, constructive life if they follow their physicians' advice.

If one has heart disease his doctor will advise that he do all things in moderation, if necessary outline vitamin deficiency needs, eat sensibly and if overweight tell him how to reduce, in order to take some of the strain off his heart.

It is a protection to your heart if you have all the rest you need. When you rest you give your heart a chance to slow down and get the rest it needs. So keep reasonable hours, especially on work days.

Refuse to let yourself be rushed. If you think something must be done on the run, change that attitude to allow yourself more time. This applies also to driving a car. Aside from the danger of sudden death in a high speed accident, fast driving at any time makes your nerves taut, raises your blood pressure and burdens your heart. Also, refuse to worry, be afraid or to become angry. If you allow yourself to indulge in these wasteful emotions, your own heart is being punished.

Dr. Cox has one last word of advice. If you have heart disease, cooperate with your physician. The physician's objective is for the patient to realize the maximum of their capabilities within the limits of their disabilities.

BLIND EYE TO THE TELESCOPE

Conductor — "Can't you see the sign 'No Smoking'?"

Sailor — "Sure, mate that's plain enough. But there are so many dippy signs here. Looka there, one says 'Wear Nemo Corsets.' So, I ain't paying attention to any of them."

CONTROL IS A GREAT THING

Coach — How many runs did they get off you in the first inning?

Pitcher: Only six.
"And in the second?"

"Eight."
"And in the third?"

"Aw, in the third I blew up and went all to pieces."

SUSPICIOUS

Visitor to lady of the house — "There's a gentleman with a bunch of roses at the door."
"I ain't going — it's probably another ruse of the landlord's."
